

Lindsey Caldwell, Director

Lindsey Caldwell is a director at Coxe Curry & Associates. In this role, she is involved with the management and strategic direction of feasibility studies and capital campaigns and has worked with a variety of nonprofit clients, including the Automotive Training Center, Boys & Girls Clubs of Metro Atlanta, Covenant House of Georgia, Open Hand Atlanta, Grady Health Foundation, and The Propel Center. In addition to her client engagements, Lindsey assists with the onboarding and mentoring of the firm's campaign management staff.

Prior to joining Coxe Curry, Lindsey served as a campaign assistant at O'Neill & Associates and completed a ten-month term with Hands On Atlanta's school-based AmeriCorps program, working as the Atlanta Partners For Education Program Coordinator.

Lindsey is a member of the Board of Directors for Community Farmers Markets, is a member of the Young Leaders Council for the Atlanta BeltLine Partnership – AB67, and is an active member of the Junior League of Atlanta. Most recently, she served on the board of Vox Teen Communications, where she was vice-chair for two years. Lindsey is a graduate of the LEAD Atlanta Class of 2015, served as Co-Chair of the LEAD Atlanta Class of 2018, and remains involved with the program as a volunteer.

A native of Birmingham, Alabama, Lindsey graduated from Auburn University with a Bachelor of Science degree in human development and family studies, minoring in business administration. She received a Master of Public Administration degree from Georgia State University, with a concentration in nonprofit management.
